REFERENCES / BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. A. K. Zakir Hussain (2007), “Relative performance of service cooperative Banks in Kerala.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 61-65.
2. Anand Singh Kodan, Narender Singh and Sandeep Mehra (2010), “Spatial pattern and challenges of cooperative dairy farming in India.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.47-55.
3. Ashwini Ramesh (2000), “Why self-help groups and why not the small village cooperatives for rural development: A critical perspectives vision.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 40-48.
4. Bhausaheb Pawar, Rupali Unde, Ashok Mane & Prakash Deshpande (2011), “Agricultural credit through cooperative society.” Journal of Agricultural Economics, Vol-II, No.-2, pp.11-17.
5. B. C. Das (2009), “Micro credit demand of BPL farmers for dairy farming.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 50-58.
6. C. Sarkar and P. K. Sahu (2000), “Statistical account of the performance of primary agricultural credit society : A micro level study.” Journal of Agricultural Economics, Vol-I, No.-2, pp.20-36.
7. Dru. Sriwastawa and Vinodkumar (2007), “Cost credit in three selected villages in Solapur district.” Indian Journal of Agricultural Economics, pp. 20-27.
8. D. Joel Edwinraj (2007), “Micro finance to rural poor through self help group.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, Vol-41, Annual Issue, April 2006 to March 2007, pp.10-17.
9. G. Jayalakshmi and M. Sumathy (2010), “Problems & prospects of dairy cooperatives in India.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 22-30.

10. Hasmukh Desai (2007), “Analysis of the structure & functions of self help groups : A study in Moinabad mandal.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.22-28.
11. J. Ayadevappa / A. R. Visbvanatha (2010), “Revival of cooperatives through SHG.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.33-40.
12. K.A. Suresh (2009), “An importance of investment credit in Kerala economy.” Cooperative perspectives, Vol-I, pp.22-35.
13. Manmohan & Johl (2005), “ The need for heavy investments for farmers in India.” The National Journal of Prajnan, Vol-II, Issue-3, pp.-31-36.
14. M. M. Bhalerao and Ravindra Sigh (1990), “Trade in interstate inequality in the supply of long terms credit.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-II. Issue-1, pp. 13-20.
15. M. A. Lokhande (2009), “Micro financing through self help groups – A study of Jalana District.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.42-48.
16. M. S. Ramananda and S.Mahendra Kumar (2009), “Dairy cooperatives – A stimulant for rural women.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.18-25.
17. N. V. Narayana (1995), “The supply of investment credit and its utilization in the drought prone area, Anantpur district of Andhra Pradesh.” The National Journal of Prajnan, Vol-I, Issue-2, pp.10-13.
18. Negi (2010), “A study of comprehensive issues of agricultural co-operative credit in Grahawal Himalaya Region of Utter Pradesh.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-II. Issue-1, pp-23-30.
19. N. Jamunarani (2010), “Kisan credit cards – A viable tool for rural credit.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 13-18.
20. N. Perriyasami (2009), “Cooperative dairying – A boon to Indian farmers.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.35-42.

21. P. Satish and Gopalkrushna (2002), “The framework reading viability of banking.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-II. Issue-4, pp.22-30.
22. Pawar and Bhuvanendran (1992), “Impact of long term finance of the tribal economy in Madhys Pradesh.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-I. Issue-2, pp.45-50.
23. P. Raghuram (1990), “Progress of PCARD bank in India.” Indian Journal of Agricultural Economics, pp. 36-46.
24. Pandey and Ashok Kumar (2008), “Economic evaluation of co-operative credit in Indian agriculture.” Indian Journal of Agricultural Economics, pp.57-59.
25. P. G. Ramanujan / G. S. Ramkrishna (2010), “Cooperative credit in rural India.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.-20-29.
26. P. Sorubarni (2009), “The role of cooperatives in empowering women.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 36-42.
27. Prakash Bakshi (2011), “Issues relating to cooperatives in India.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 15-24.
28. R. K. P. Singh, K. K. Prasad and A. K. Choudhary (2000) in his articles titled, “Role of cooperative in Milk production in Bihar.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 20-27.
29. Sourindra Bhattachajee (1994), “Factors influencing viability of primary agricultural credit society.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-I. Issue-2, pp.7-13.
30. S. Ramamoorthi (2003), “ Need of long term credit to cultivators of Aruvikkara Block in Kerala States.” The National Journal of Yojana, pp.43-52.
31. Sharma and Prasad (1998), “The credit needs at different stages of technological development in agriculture.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-II. Issue-3, pp.-12-18.

32. S. B. Patel (1990), “A comparative study of co-operative and commercial financing agency in India.” The Journal of Cooperator, Vol-II. Issue-1, pp.10-19.
33. Sudarsan Nayak (2007), “Empowerment of the poor through SHG & Micro finance.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.46-52.
34. S. Mohan (2009), “NPA management – A critical appraisal of CCB.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 9-15.
35. S. Ganesan (2009), “Primary agricultural credit societies in India : An overview.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 25-32.
36. S. Ravi Varma & R. Rajendra Naidu (2009), “Analysis of borrowers & defaulters in cooperative credit : A case study.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp.25-30.
37. Stanley Xavier Elango & U. Homiga (2011), “Emerging Dynamics in Microfinance : An economic perspectice.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 12-19.
38. Samuel Kakuko Lopoyetum (2000), “A micro-analysis of the cost of default & evaluation of primary agricultural cooperative banks : A case of rural financing.” Journal of Agricultural Economics, Vol-II, No.-4, pp. 12-20.
39. V. M. Rao (2009), “Progress of women dairy project in west Bengal.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 13-20.
40. Yathish Kumar (2008), “Macro finance as a tool for rural development.” National Journal of Cooperative perspective, Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of cooperative management, pp. 30-37.

Shri Thube Baban Gangadhar
(Researcher)

Dr. Bhosale J. P.
(Research Guide)